CORAM : HONOURABLE MR.JUSTICE K.M.MEHTADate : 28/12/2005*ORAL JUDGMENT

1.Yusuf Adam Patel, petitioner-detenu has filed this habeas corpus petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India for quashing and setting aside the order of detention dated 23/8/2005 passed by the Police Commissioner, Surat. Petition was filed on 17/12/2005. On 21/12/2005, this Court (Coram:K.M.Mehta,J.) has issued rule which is returnable on 27/12/2005. On behalf of respondent, Mr.L.R.Pujari, learned APP appears. Hence, with consent of parties, matter has been taken up for final hearing.

2.Ms.Banna Dutta, learned advocate for Mr.A.R.Shaikh, learned advocate appears on behalf of the petitioner. The learned advocate for the petitioner has invited my attention to the order of detention dated 23/8/2005 passed by the authority under the provisions of PASA Act and order of committal dated 23/8/2005. On that very day, the detenu has been detained in Rajkot Jail. She has also invited my attention to the grounds furnished by the authority to the petitioner on 23/8/2005. In the grounds of detention, it is stated that there is one solitary offence committed wherein the detenu has committed under jurisdiction of Limbayat Police Station in connection with Cr. Case No.448 of 2005 dated 1/6/2005 under the provisions of Section 66(1)(B), 65(A)(E) and 81 of the Bombay Prohibition Act. It is alleged that petitioner was storing 912 bottles of country made liquor valued at Rs.27,360/-, Maruti Fronty Car, Number Plates and cash (Total Rs.1,00,100/-)

3.The authority has also stated that as petitioner is carrying on anti social activities as carrying on business of liquor and therefore, he is 'bootlegger' under the provisions of the PASA Act as the activities of the petitioner affects the public health in this behalf. Petitioner has made representation before the Police Commissioner, Surat on 8/12/2005. The same is still pending.

4.The learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that petitioner cannot be held as a 'bootlegger' within the meaning of PASA Act. There can be breach of law and order situation but not public order. For the same, the learned advocate has relied upon the judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Piyush Kantilal Mehta, reported in 1989 AIR SC 491 and also relied upon judgment of the Division bench of this Court (Coram:M.R.Calla and R.R.Tripathi, J.J.) in Letters Patent Appeal 223 of 2000 in Special Civil Application No.554 of 2000 in the case of Ashok Balabhai Makwana and judgment of the Division Bench of this Court (C.K.Thakkar, Acting C.J. and K.M.Mehta, J.) in the case of v. Police Commissioner, reported in 2000 (1) GLR 816, particularly para 21.

5.On behalf of respondent, Mr.L.R.Pujari, learned APP appears. He has tried to support the order of detention on the basis of grounds stated in the order of detention.

6.Having heard the learned counsel for both the parties, in my considered view, the detaining authority has passed the order of detention without there being any credible and cogent material in this behalf. Contentions of the petitioner are squarely covered by the decisions of the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Piyush Kantilal Mehta (supra) and Division Bench Judgment of this Court (Coram:M.R.Calla and R.R.Tripathi, J.J.) in the case of Ashokbhai Balabhai Makwana (supra) and another division bench judgment of this Court (C.K.Thakkar, Acting C.J. and K.M.Mehta, J.) in the case of Ashokbhai Jivrajbhai (supra). And therefore, the order of detention is required to be quashed and set aside.

7.Having heard the rival submissions of the parties and perused the records of the case, I am of the view that only registration of criminal case under the Prohibition Act alone cannot be said to be sufficient enough to arrive at the subjective satisfaction to the effect that the activities of the detenu are prejudicial to the public order. The power to detain a person under the PASA Act is not based on simple facts about registration of crimes under the Prohibition Act. There has to be nexus and link for such activities which disturb the public order. The activities of the detenu must in the backdrop of the facts, reflect that such activities disturbed the even tempo or normal life of the community in the locality or disturbed general peace and tranquility or create a sense of alarm and insecurity in the locality. On careful perusal of the grounds of detention order and relying upon the judgment of the Supreme Court in Piyush Kantilal Mehta (supra), judgment and order dated 22/8/2000 of the Division Bench of this Court (Coram:M.R.Calla and R.R.Tripathi, J.J.) in L.P.A. No.223 of 2000 in S.C.A. No.554 of 2000, judgment of Division Bench of this Court (Coram:C.K.Thakkar, Acting C.J. and K.M.Mehta,J.) in the case of Ashokbhai Jivrajbhai and Special Civil Application No.20420 of 2005 decided by this Court (Coram:K.M.Mehta, J.) on 15/11/2005, in my view, it cannot be said that the activities of the detenu are prejudicial to the public order. Therefore, the order of detention passed by the detaining authority cannot be sustained and is required to be quashed and set aside.

8.I have considered the facts and circumstances of the case in view of the submissions made by the learned counsel for the petitioner, judgment of the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Piyush Kantilal Mehta (supra) and judgment in Letters Patent Appeal (supra) and other judgment cited by the petitioner. Considering all these, I am of the view that the activities of the petitioner may affect law and order situation and not affect the public order and therefore, subjective satisfaction arrived at by the authority is not legal and valid. Therefore, the order of detention passed by the authority is required to be quashed and set aside.

9.In the result, I am of the view that the order of detention cannot be sustained by law. I hereby quash and set aside the order of detention. Petition is allowed. Yusuf Adam Patel, detenu is ordered to be set at liberty forthwith if he is not required in connection with any other case. Rule is made absolute accordingly with no order as to cost. Direct service is permitted.
